DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zegarra.

Zegarra discloses in the Figures and in column 6, line 36 to column 7, line 67 a device comprising a common use article (1) having visible surfaces, transparent windows (42-45) thereon, and a pocket (2-5) carried behind each window. Zegarra further discloses in column 5, lines 9-13 that a plurality of cards are held and displayed by the pockets such that representations thereon are visible to the user.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zegarra.

Zegarra discloses the apparatus of claim 2, as discussed above. Zegarra fails to explicitly disclose the specific steps of repetitively observing a card through a window, and replacing the card with another card and repeating the process. However, Zegarra does disclose the use a plurality of flash cards to help a user study some concept.

Art Unit: 3712

Official Notice is taken that it is well known to repetitively view study aids such as flash cards, and that it is well known to replace such cards as desired. These steps are obvious, in light of the teachings of Zegarra, which is explicitly directed to a study aid device.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Miller, Shapiro, Webber, Brady, Bryant, Gerbasi, Wagner, Curtin, Givati and Burgoin disclose various devices having transparent pockets thereon for holding cards.
